SURGE OF ENTRIES FOR GRAFTON TO INVERELL CLASSIC

This month's McDonalds Grafton to Inverell Cycle Classic and Glen Innes to Inverell Classic de Femme will boast more than 300 starters.

Race Director:
Scott Sunderland

When entries closed at the weekend, close to 300 men had nominated in the Elite, B and C grades, and 29 ladies had nominated for the Classic de Femme to be held on Saturday the 22nd of October.

Race Director Scott Sunderland said the mens field includes 9 teams and features the National Road Series leader Genesys Wealth Advisers.

He said although entries had closed, he understands the deluge of late entries has meant not all could be processed in time and additional names may be added to the list.

Organisers have altered the Glen Innes Severn Council Classic de Femme to run the A and B-grades together although there will still be prizes for placegetters in each grade.

The Classic de Femme will start at the Glen Innes Parklands at 11am, ride three neutral laps and then travel via Elsmore to Inverell.
